Santos is building a global energy business through its exploration, development and production activities in every major Australian petroleum province and in Indonesia, Papua New Guinea, Vietnam and the Kyrgyz Republic.

We have opportunities available for graduates with qualifications in Geology, Geophysics, Geoscience and Petroleum, Reservoir, Mechanical, Mechatronic, Chemical or Civil Engineering to join our graduate program commencing February 2011.

Why Santos? We offer a ‘real job’ upon commencement, drill more onshore wells in Australia than any other petroleum company, have a formalised rotations program and provide technical and support mentoring. We also provide attractive remuneration and relocation benefits.

If practical hands-on experience is what you desire and you want to be part of our exciting future, visit our website and apply online at www.santos.com before 7 April 2010.
